Oral Examination

The regulation for the degree of PhD in the University of Glasgow state:

A candidate for the Degree of PhD must present himself or herself for oral or other examination by the Committee of Examiners on the subject matter of the thesis and its context. The requirement for an oral examination shall be observed at the first submission of the thesis. In undertaking an oral or other examination the candidate must follow any requirements for the assessment as stated by the Graduate School. Where a candidate has been permitted to resubmit a thesis for examination, an oral shall also be held other than in exceptional circumstances, where the Convener, on the recommendation of the Committee of Examiners, may seek the agreement of the Dean of Graduate Studies to set aside the requirement for an oral examination after resubmission. In such circumstances the agreement of the candidate must be obtained, otherwise the candidate shall have the right to insist on an oral being held.

The oral examination is held no later than 3 months after submission of the thesis.

Mandatory Training

Details of the generic training provided by the College are enclosed with the thesis. Examiners may discuss the research training with the candidate at the oral examination.

Role of the Supervisor

The Supervisor does not normally attend the oral examination unless the candidate has specifically requested this. He/she will be available in the building at the time of the oral and may be requested to attend to answer questions concerning the research project. If the thesis has been submitted for examination against the advice of the supervisor or if there are special circumstances relating to the candidate or the project, this will have been stated on the Notification of Intention to Submit a Thesis form or in a report to the Convener from the Supervisor.
