

PUBLIC SEMINAR

Organised by the Glasgow Human Rights Network (GHRN)

Inventing the Future

4th December, 5pm-7.30pm

with Nick Srnicek and Alex Williams

We live in an era where the greatest mobilisation of people leads to the smallest increment of change, where the future appears to have been cancelled.

What is the source of this situation? And what can be done?

This talk will analyse the recent cycle of struggles stretching from the anti-globalisation movement to the Occupy movements in order to uncover a common limitation.

In its place, this talk will put forth an alternative path forward: one which liberates us from work and which constructs new modes of freedom.

THE EVENT IS FREE AND WILL BE FOLLOWED BY A RECEPTION.

PLEASE REGISTER :

WWW.EVENTBRITE.CO.UK/E/INVENTING-THE-FUTURE-TICKETS-19547668603

VENUE:

Sir Charles Wilson Building Lecture Theatre
1 University Avenue, University of Glasgow
G12 8QQ

Co-hosted with

CRCEES & Socialist Theory and Movements Research Network

Contact : Zuly Mailzada

z.mail-zada.1@research.gla.ac.uk

<http://www.gla.ac.uk/>

glasgowhumanrightsnetwork/

The University of Glasgow charity number SC004401

